

"Truly I say to you
that this generation will by no means pass away until all these things occur"

"The irresistible conclusion therefore is that Jesus referred to the new creation [the Anointed] when he said 'This generation shall not pass until all these things be fulfilled'.

"This then would be a strong indication that some members of the new creation will be on earth at the time of Armageddon."

"The actual meaning of these words is, beyond question, that which takes a 'generation' in the ordinary sense, as at Mark 8:12 and Acts 13:36, or for those who are living at the given period. So it was on 'this generation' that the accumulated judgments were to fall. (Matt. 23:36)
"This therefore means that from 1914 a generation shall not pass till all is fulfilled, and amidst a great time of trouble."

"Was Jesus using the word 'generation' in a symbolic way? No, we should not say that the word 'generation' here has a symbolic meaning ... The 'generation' of Matthew 24:34 includes persons alive at the time that the war in heaven began in 1914 ... Members of that generation will see the end of this world."

"To what generation did Jesus refer? Jesus was referring, not to the wicked, but to his disciples, who were soon to be anointed with holy spirit. Jesus' anointed followers, both in the first century and in our day, would be the ones who would not only see the sign but also discern its meaning - that Jesus 'is near at the doors'.

"What does this explanation mean to us? Although we cannot measure the exact length of 'this generation', we do well to keep in mind several things about the word 'generation': It usually refers to people of varying ages whose lives overlap during a particular time period; it is not excessively long; and it has an end. (Exodus 1:6)

"How, then, are we to understand Jesus' words about 'this generation'? He evidently meant that the lives of the anointed who were on hand when the sign began to become evident in 1914 would overlap with the lives of other anointed ones who would see the start of the great tribulation."
